

GET your small business humming and KEEP it humming!

Have you ever watched a tiny hummingbird in action?

Hummingbirds are the smallest bird species, yet they command huge respect in the animal kingdom. If you've ever seen a hummingbird protect its young in the nest, you know they're astoundingly fierce. And they're also amazingly agile – no other bird can hover in mid-air, or fly backwards.

In short, hummingbirds are pretty cool. And in many ways, successful small business people remind us of hummingbirds.

Like the hummingbird, a small business owner is nimble and agile – able to react quickly to changes in the marketplace. Not to mention intense, focused, and untiring in their efforts.
